

Apply your knowledge and your engagement as a

Project Manager (f/m/d)

Outstanding analytical, conceptual and communication skills combined with a high degree of personal initiative, team orientation and flexibility as well as fluent business English and German will qualify you for a position within our dynamic, fast growing and open-minded company. You have a university degree and at least five years of professional experience in the financial services industry as a consultant or in a line management function and have also acquired extensive and well-rounded know-how in the Project Management area, e.g. planning, tracking and execution of large (IT transformation) projects or even programs?

Additional certifications (e.g. IPMA, PMI, Prince2) will be of advantage.

Seize your opportunity!

Our collaborative and innovative company culture provides the ideal framework for your professional and personal development. As a Project Manager you will play a key role in supporting our international customers in terms of their program and project set up, planning, tracking and execution thereof. You will be responsible for:

- Applying a structured approach and methodology for all aspects of project planning and KPI development
- End-to-end management of implementation projects through all project phases
- Stakeholder and client relationship management
- Aligning strategic goals with decisions regarding products and services, partners, suppliers and more

We are searching for new colleagues (w/m/d) who are excited by the idea of working on European and international projects and value frequent travelling across Europe or worldwide. Typical project engagements require on-site engagement and thus frequent travel to the client site and last usually between six and twelve months.

Sounds interesting? It sure is!

For further information, please contact Dr. Claudia Kröll by telephone +49 (0)221 92 18 41-285. Please send your application documents including your salary expectation and your possible entry date to Recruiting@ifb-group.com.